Financial News is introducing several new lists this year as we build on the success of the Most Influential and Rising Stars lists that we already run, and roll them out across our main sectors. This includes a new Twenty Most Influential in Crypto, featuring senior executives from across financial services who work in crypto and blockchain, and Rising Stars of Professional Services, to include up-and-coming talent at accounting and consultancy firms. All of FN's lists focus on individuals working in Europe. These accompany our well-established lists such as the FN100 Most Influential Women in Finance, which has been running since 2007 as a way to celebrate female leaders in a still male-dominated industry.

We also have two long-running flagship awards: the Excellence in Trading & Tech Awards, recognising those working in trading and market infrastructure across Europe; and the Excellence in Institutional Fund Management Awards, which reward firms and individuals in the fund management sector in Europe. The awards are free to enter and independently judged by a panel of senior executives working in the respective industries, meaning that the shortlists are thoroughly scrutinised by people who have intimate knowledge of the sectors and the winners are those who truly stand out from their peers

FN returned to in-person drinks, dinners and black-tie celebrations this year as we recognised the best in the industry and young rising talent
